

Federal Communication Commission
Washington, DC
15 December 2012

Ladies and Gentlemen of the FCC:

This comment is to oppose relaxation of current rules for consolidating media companies; and to support greater diversity in ownership, views, news and information provided in television, print and other media such that the interests of local communities and their citizens are better and more democratically served.

Ours is a representative democracy, and an increasingly oligarchic media delivery system is antithetical to nurturing and sustaining democratic governance; informing our citizens well with a variety of views; and supporting life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all in our beloved United States of America.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

/s/ Gregory Sinner
P.O.Box 259
New Braintree, MA 01531